Dr. Laxmi Shrikhande, Vice Chairperson ICOG

The Indian College of Obstetrics and Gynaecology (ICOG) is an academic wing of FOGSI. It has published guidelines on various issues pertaining to women's health care keeping in mind the Indian scenario and also conducts a plethora of fellowship training courses to update and enhance the skills of our members and future colleagues.

With the academic prowess of our eminent council members, we are presently in the process of revising our training curriculum and standardizing it across all training centres. Updated guidelines on many more issues relevant to the Indian OB/GY practitioner are also on the way.

I welcome suggestions and active contribution from all FOGSI members towards empowering the scholastic activities of ICOG. Please feel free to contact me via email.

With Chairperson Dr Tushar Kar and Secretary Dr Parag Biniwale, I am positive that this year ICOG will make even greater academic strides and guide management in the day-to-day practice of our FOGSI members.
